

HARDING TO GUIDE NATION BACK TO NORMAL TIMES

administration. With all of this, must attend a multitude of the human side of all activities so that social, industrial and economic justice will be squared with purposes of a righteous people.

With the nationwide induction of womanhood into our political life, we may count upon her intuitions, her influence, her intelligence, her order, her sense of duty, her sense of justice, her sense of responsibility, her sense of the full privileges and the performance of the duties of citizenship to speed the attainment of the highest state.

Industrial Peace
I wish for America no less alert in guarding against dangers from within than it is watchful against enemies from without. Fundamental law recognizes no class, no group, no section. There must be no group, no section, no administration. The supreme inspiration is the common good. Humanity hungers for international peace and we crave it with all our hearts. My most reverent prayer for America is for industrial peace, with its rewards, widely and generally distributed, and the inspiration of equal opportunity.

No one justly may deny the equality of opportunity which makes us what we are. We have mistaken unpreparedness to embrace it to be a challenge of the reality, and due concern for making all citizens fit for participation will give added strength of citizenship and magnify our achievements.

It is not revolution in overturning established order, let other peoples make the tragic experiment. There is no place for it in America. When world war threatened our lives to its preservation, and when revolution threatens we untie the flag of law and order and renew our cooperation. Ours is a constitutional freedom, where the popular will is the law supreme and minorities are protected. Our reforms and evolutions reflect a deliberate judgment and an orderly progress, and we mean to cure, cur ill, but never destroy or permit destruction by force.

It has been proved again and again that we cannot, while throwing our markets open to the world, maintain American standards of living and opportunity for our people. There is a living failure in the theory of banded barriers of trade, but preserving our standards of living and opportunity for our people is a higher standard to be reflected in our tariff on imports. Today's never before, when peoples are seeking restoration and expansion in the new order, and participation in the world's exchanges, because therein lies our way to widened influence and triumph of peace. We know full well that we cannot succeed where we do not carry.

Opportunity is calling, not alone for the restoration of a new era in production, transportation and trade. We shall answer it best by meeting the demand of a surpassing home market, by promoting and relieving in production and by bidding enterprise, genius and efficiency to carry our cargoes in American bottoms to the marts of the world.

An America of Homes

We would not have an America, living within and for herself, but we would have a self-reliant, independent and ever nobler, stronger and richer. Believing in our higher standards, reached through constitutional liberty and multiple opportunity, we invite the world to the heights. But pride in things wrought is no reflex of a completed task. Common welfare is the goal of our national endeavor. Wealth is not inimical to welfare; it ought to be the intelligent agency.

There never can be equality of rewards or possessions so long as the human plan contains talents and differing degrees of industry and ability, but ours ought to be a country free from great blotches of distressed poverty. We ought to find a way to guide against the perils and penalties of unemployment. We want an America of homes, illumined with hope and happiness, where mothers, freed from the necessity for long hours of toil beyond their own doors, may provide as mothers the heartstone of American citizenship. We want the cradle of American childhood rocked under conditions so wholesome and so hopeful that no blight may touch it in its development, and we want to provide that no selfish interest, no material necessity, no lack of opportunity shall prevent the gaining of the education so essential to best citizenship.

There is no short cut to the making of these ideals into gains. The world has witnessed, and the mischief of ill-considered remedies for social and economic disorders. But we are mindful today as never before of the friction of modern industrialism and must learn its causes and reduce its evil consequences by sober and tested methods. Where genuine justice and happiness may be reflected in a greater common welfare.

Supreme Commitment

Service is the supreme commitment of life. I would rejoice to recapture the era of the golden rule and crown it with the autocratic service. I pledge the agencies of government are called to serve and ever promote an understanding of government purely as an expression of the popular will. I cannot stand in this presence and be unmindful of the tremendous responsibility. The world has seen, but has added heavily to the burden of each resolve, and there is assurance in belief in the God-given destiny of our republic. There is to be no executive for the America of tomorrow. I should shrink from the burden. But here are a hundred millions, with common sense and responsibility, answerable to God and country. The republic stands to their duty and I stand to theirs.

I accept my part with single-mindedness of purpose and humility of spirit, and implore the favor and guidance of God in His heaven, with these I am unafraid and confidently face the future with the oath of office on that passage of Holy writ wherein it is asked "what do the Lord require of Thee but to do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with thy God." This I pledge to God and country.

Ex-President Will Practice Law; Some Intimate Glimpses of Him

Washington.—Any public expectation that there will be an early and large literary output from ex-President Woodrow Wilson is likely to encounter disappointment. Certainly he is not intending to plunge into the arduous labor of writing many books, despite the vast amount of material in his hands.

Woodrow Wilson leaves the White House today to resume the role of a private citizen and again take up the practice of law—a profession in which he has not been active for 40 years. With Bainbridge Colby, the retiring secretary of state, the president has formed a partnership and the firm will maintain offices in New York and Washington.

Already he has shown inclination to divert his mind from state affairs and to give it more recreation than has ever been his custom hitherto. He took a keen interest in motion pictures at the White House. He reads novels, many of them detective stories, for which he has always had a fondness. Ever since the last election he has been giving his mind a rest from public matters, so far as it has been possible. Those who see him all agree that there has been a marked improvement in his health and his contentment since November.

Even concerning the league of nations, always close to his heart, he is reported to be quite philosophical. He made his fight for it; his belief in it is unshaken. But if there are others who feel that they can do a better job than he, the president is quite willing that they shall go ahead and try.

Wilson is quite satisfied that his record will analyze well in the years to come and that it will meet the tests of more judgment. He has often been credited with a marked faculty of discarding public clamor of the moment and seeing events beyond it in their true perspective.

Just what plans have been made for Mr. Wilson's outings have not been disclosed. There will, it is said, be a motorcar. The president does not own one, and those which have been at his service will be turned over, the Hardings, being a part of the White House establishment. There are several thousand in operation here and most of them are driven by women. Mrs. Wilson, stepping out of official circles, may find it convenient to get another electric for her own use in shopping and making calls, and it is not unlikely that Mr. Wilson may do a good deal of driving with her.

It is a novelty for an ex-president to make Washington his home, and at first it may be difficult for Mr. Wilson to obtain the seclusion that he desires. Many people are apt to be making a pilgrimage to street to see him, and his views on this subject or

Coolidge Is Hard Worker, Clear Headed and Solid American; "Silent Cal."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington.—Calvin Coolidge is the first Massachusetts man to hold the office of vice-president since Henry Wilson served in the second Grant administration nearly half a century ago. His advent into office adds to the prominence of his state in national government affairs for it is regarded as almost certain that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge will be again chosen as republican leader in the senate, and that Frederick H. Gillett will be speaker of the house.

A Massachusetts man will preside over each branch of congress, an unusual coincidence. Both Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Gillett come from the same congressional district, Northampton, the home of the vice-president being in the same district as Springfield, the home of the speaker. Both men are graduates of Amherst college.

Active in State 20 Years.
Vice-president Coolidge is entering upon his first service in the field of national politics, but for 20 years he has been active in the political service of his state, rising from membership in the council of his city to governor of the commonwealth.

In some respects Mr. Coolidge is a rare change in American public life, being taciturn to a degree, and apparently shunning the spot light and the glare which usually surround intimate friends. He is known as "Silent Cal." It is related in illustration of this characteristic that he had personal and political friends who had conferred with him in his executive office in Boston without receiving more than monosyllabic answers, finally quit the office in disgust, exclaiming as he came out: "By George, I'd like to be that fellow's stenographer!"

Family in Public Life.
But after all, holding public office does come naturally enough to the new vice-president. For generations, ever since his forebears settled in Watertown, Mass., in 1630 and later went to the rough, backwoods section of Vermont, where he was born in 1895, his family has been identified with public affairs. His father served in the Vermont state legislature and on governor's staffs and for years has been known as a sort of unofficial magistrate and counselor in his section. It was the crowning event of the father's life to witness the inauguration of his son.

His intellectual preference Vice-president Coolidge has since early youth demonstrated a taste for problems of statecraft. As a senior at Amherst he won the $100 gold medal in competition with students of all American colleges for the best essay on a historical subject.

Handled Boston Police.
It was this intensive study of affairs of state that first attracted to him the attention of prominent republican leaders, notably the late Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts. For a number of years he watched the development of his career with a view to directing him into the national political arena. Their opportunity came when the spectacular Boston police strike, during his first term as governor, attracted nationwide attention. The crisis which was precipitated by the strike, according to those friends, morally revealed the powers and courage of the man, and they frankly and openly seized the opportunity to press for his nomination for the republican presidential nomination at Chicago last June.

Attractive Home Life.
Probably the most attractive part of Mr. Coolidge is his home life. Ever since his marriage 15 years ago, to Miss Grace Goodhue, of Burlington, Vt., a University of Vermont graduate whom he met as a school teacher in Northampton, he has lived a quiet, modest life, most of the time in the shadow of Smith college, in a house which he has rented for $250 a month.

"Save no matter what your salary may be," has always been his motto and, as he has enjoyed beyond the income earned in public office only meagre returns from his law practice because of pressure of public duties, he has been obliged and content to live simply. There are two boys in their early teens, but all do their bit, even to mowing the lawn.

Conservative in Dress.
During Mr. Coolidge's official residence at Boston, he and Mrs. Coolidge lived in apartments at a hotel, as they will do here in Washington, while the boys have been away at school. In dress, too, Mr. Coolidge has been not extravagant, although always immaculately attired and not given to use of the thrashbare, whatever the popular impression to the contrary may be.

129 MEMBERS OF CONGRESS RETIRE

Most of Them Go Out With Tidal Wave Which Swept G. O. P. in.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington.—One hundred and twenty-nine members of the house and senate retired Friday to private life. Most of them went out in the backwash of the tidal wave which swept the republican party in full control of all the functions of the government, but some few republicans as well as democrats elected not to run again for their seats.

115 Members Leave.
The actual number of house members retiring was 115, but three of these—McKinley, of Illinois; Harrell, of Oklahoma; republicans, and Caraway, of Arkansas, democrats, go to the other end of the capitol as senators.

The new extra session expected to be called soon will start with a total of 372 democrats and one socialist. The lone prohibitionist in the closing congress under which the country went dry was beaten. There is one man shy—from Pennsylvania—of the republican vacancy caused by the death of the member-elect will not be filled until fall.

New Senate Convened.
The new senate, which convened Friday in special session to act on resolutions by President Harding, contains 59 republicans and 37 democrats, giving the republicans a majority of 22 as against only two majority during most of the last congress, when the line-up generally was 49 republicans and 47 democrats.

For the second time in history the house will have a woman member, Miss Alice M. Robertson, of the second Oklahoma district, who succeeds William W. Hastings.

Northeast Dominates.
For the first time in the history of the house the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river will dominate legislation, republicans from that area being in full control.

Many places formerly held by veterans were captured by men young in years and politics, but some veteran politicians came in, among them Theodore Burton, of Ohio, a former senator, and Bourke Cockran, of New York.

Clark Served 20 Years.
Champion C. Clark, who died Wednesday, is to be succeeded by a man new in congress. Two Tennessee democrats—Sims and Moon—turned over their desks to younger men after coming here together 24 years ago.

Two leading democrats on the ways and means committee which must frame a tariff law, Henry T. Rainey, of Illinois, and Hull of Tennessee—marked out Rainey after 13 years and Hull 14. Sherwood, of Ohio, who went into the United States army as a private and came out a brigadier general, retired with 16 years marked on his legislative gun, the same mark set by Goldfogle, of New York, whose place was taken by Meyer, of London, the only socialist democrat retiring, were Scott Ferris, Oklahoma, and Bee, Texas, brother-in-law of the retiring Postmaster General Burdick.

14 States Unchanged.
The delegations from 14 states, many of them with small representation, remained unchanged. Gallivan and Tagne, both of Boston, stood up as the sole and solid democratic representation from all of New England, the state of presidential nominees, sent a solid republican delegation.

Prominent among the 12 democratic and two republican senators retiring besides Senator Sherman, were Senators Chamberlain, Oregon, former democratic chairman of the military committee; Gronna, North Dakota, former republican chairman of the agriculture committee; Hoke Smith, democrat, Georgia, who was succeeded by Thomas E. Watson, Georgia, democrat, Colorado, and Cato, Democrat, Oklahoma.

Other retiring members were Beckham, Kentucky; Gay, Louisiana; Johnson, South Dakota; Kirby, Arkansas; Henderson, Nevada; Smith, Arizona; Smith, Maryland; and Phelan, California, all democrats.

Marshalls Also Retire.
Another retiring notable was Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall, who will go on chautauqua circuits next week. He will sail for Europe in May to remain until fall.

Of the 11 new senators who took their seats, 11 were republicans and three democrats. The republicans were Ralph E. Cameron, Arizona;

First and Second Ladies of Land Are Essentially Home Women

Mrs. Warren G. Harding, left, and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

Both the first and second ladies of the land are women whose home and family life have meant much more to them than anything else. Mrs. Harding helped her husband on his Marion paper for 12 years until illness prevented. She was circulation manager, head of the complaint department and "can get to the newsboys." Since illness prevented her working for the paper she has given most of her time to household duties and likes nothing so much as tending her garden.

Mrs. Coolidge as mother of two active sons has a busy time "just mothering." She also is a home woman and has done most of her own housework, even while she was first lady of Massachusetts.

MRS. HARDING FINDS SERVANT PROBLEM WELL TAKEN CARE OF

Washington.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding found her servant problem solved for her when she became mistress of the White House today. Cooks, chambermaids, laundrywomen, butler and pantry—20 in all, are provided by the government at a cost of $10,000 per year, and she has a housekeeper who has been in charge of the service since the administration of former President Taft. Previous to that time a stewardess in charge.

Florence Kling Harding possesses an unusual degree of pluck and outspokenness. She has ideas of her own on many subjects and she does not hesitate to speak her opinions straight out from the shoulder.

Mrs. Harding is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and the Hardings alternate attendance between that and the Baptist church, of which the new president is a member. She loves children and choosy horses and dogs for her pets.

Social and diplomatic Washington looks for a revival under President and Mrs. Harding of the formal state dinners and other social functions at the White House.

Officers of Wilson's Cabinet Retire to Farm and Law and Other Work Left Behind

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington.—Most of the cabinet officers who retired Friday will retire to the farm and law and other work left behind.

Bainbridge Colby, who retires after one year's service as secretary of state, will return to the practice of law in New York city, forming a partnership with Ex-President Wilson.

Banker to Practice Law.
Newton D. Baker will turn from the direction of the war department to the practice of law in his home town of Cleveland.

At Clifford Palmon, retiring attorney general, will resume his law practice with offices in his home city of Stroudsburg, Pa., and also in Washington. He will retain his home in Stroudsburg, but will reside in Washington a considerable portion of each year.

Josephus Daniels, one of the four Wilson cabinet officers who remained on the job the full eight years, will leave for Raleigh, North Carolina, to resume his duties as editor and publisher of the Raleigh News and Observer. The former naval secretary of the treasury has not made definite plans for the future, but has several offers under consideration. He was a university professor before entering the cabinet in 1915 as secretary of agriculture, but has not decided whether he will return to educational work or enter the commercial field.

John Barton Payne, who has been secretary of the interior for a year, plans to make his home in Washington, but will devote some of his time to the Chicago park project in which he was a moving spirit before he was called to Washington early in the war as general counsel for the Shipping Board Emergency Fleet corporation.

Burleson Goes to Texas.
Albert Sydney Burleson will go back to Austin, Texas, to practice law and to look after his private interests there after eight years as postmaster general.

Edwin T. Meredith, who succeeded Mr. Houston as secretary of agriculture a year ago, will return to Des Moines to look after his farm magazine and other interests.

Joshua W. Alexander, after two years' service as secretary of commerce, will go to his old home at Gallatin, Missouri, to resume the practice of law and, as he says, to "do a little farming on the side."

William B. Wilson, another of the original Wilson cabinet officers, has accepted appointment to the international joint commission dealing with disputes between the U. S. and Canada. The salary is $7,500 a year.

Madison—About 375 arrests for violations of the state prohibition law have been made during the last year according to Department Commissioner Ben C. Parkinson. Of this number 250 have been convicted and 100 cases are pending. Fines from the state have been collected for $25,000, of which $25,000 has already been collected. Persons to federal prisons, fined a few over 100 and have 60 cases pending as a result of their year's work according to Federal District Attorney A. C. Wolfe.

12-MAN JURY TO HEAR $80 CASE

Des Moines Corporation Sues Janesville Man for Breach of Contract.

A jury of 12 men has been summoned to appear in municipal court here Saturday morning to decide the $80 case of C. B. Erickson & Co., Des Moines, vs. C. B. Farnum, of the Consumers' Coal Co., Janesville.

The case is an appeal from justice court where a decision was given in favor of the plaintiff—judgment of $83.40. Under the law, it is necessary for the case, if appealed, to be tried by a 12-man jury as it then comes under what is known as a circuit court case. If it should be appealed from municipal court, it would have to go to supreme court and not circuit.

The suit is an outgrowth of a contract for 500 Erickson white enamel towel holders alleged to have been entered into by Mr. Farnum with the plaintiff, who is a resident of Janesville.

The following 15 have been summoned as jurors: Harold Green, C. H. Gibson, B. J. Howard, Arthur Francis, Harry Shurtliff, Roy Cummings, H. C. Proctor, F. O. Samuels, John Dawson, B. O. Smith, Roy Merwick, George Woodruff, Charles Bestwick, W. T. Sherer and John Lloyd.

AT WASHINGTON
The house refused to approve the senate measure in the sundry civil bill appropriating $10,000,000 for Mussoli Shouls, so the bill was passed with that left out.

CHILDREN CAN GO TO SEE "TWIN BEDS" BUT NOT KISMET
Chicago—"Kismet" is not the kind of moving picture which children of Winnetka, a north shore suburb, should be allowed to see, is the conclusion of the managers of the community house in that suburb.
"The community house tries to provide pictures that are interesting, educational and good for the young mind," explained Rev. L. W. Davies, director of the institution.
"What picture will take the place of 'Kismet'?" he was asked.
"Well, let's see," he mused. "I cannot think of the title just now—it's—oh yes; they call it 'Twin Beds'."

"ICE CAPTURE" SUPPOSED "BAD MAN"
An Indiana "bad man" supposed to be heavily armed and possessing a will to shoot, was sought here by police Thursday in answer to a request from Washington, Ind., authorities. A suspect arrested at a hotel was released at noon Friday. The Indiana sheriff gave the "bad man's" alias as the name of the man arrested here but his identity was proved and he was released when it was found the Washington officer had mixed things up.

Submarine Runs Aground in Fog
New London, Conn.—The United States submarine O-7, one of the largest of the navy's undersea craft, was threatening to roll over on the wilderness rocks off Fisher's island Friday, while word was received here that her sister craft, the O-8, which was stranded at the east end of Pelee Island, Euzard's bay, had been floated. Both submarines ran aground Thursday night during a heavy fog.

At the State Capital

Madison—School boards should be divorced from city councils and removed from politics, the senate committee on education and public welfare was told Wednesday by state educators favoring a bill giving boards the right to administer their own affairs independent of council restrictions.

Superintendent of Schools Toby, of Wausau, presented the main arguments in favor of the measure introduced by Senator Peterson.

Opponents of the measure stressed the points that school boards, if freed from council restrictions, would be without responsibility, and taxes would be higher.

The board of education would fix the power, under the measure, to fix the school budget up to 2 per cent of the assessed valuation of property.

The funds received from the budget would have to be used for maintenance of schools, payment of bonds and interest on bonds, and for making minor improvements in the schools. This would have to go to the voters for bond issues.

Reapportionment of the state election districts by a legislative committee was also a subject of discussion.

The assembly election committee, which has the senate resolution in its hands, was said to favor an amendment increasing the membership from two senators and three assemblymen to three senators and six assemblymen.

When finally appointed the committee will set out, as provided in the constitution, to reapportion the election districts of the entire state, according to the new census. There is always an effort made to align the districts so that the political favorites may be given an advantage.

The senate Friday morning voted to indefinitely postpone a proposed constitutional amendment removing restrictions against the state engaged in internal improvements.

Senator Arnold, third member from Milwaukee, was sponsor for the proposed amendment which would have extended more intensive powers to the state government than any measure previously suggested by the members of the legislature. This would open the way for the state to acquire and operate any industry.

Home rule for Wisconsin cities was advanced on its way to passage, when the Arnold bill providing for city government without state restriction except by general legislation, was sent to third reading.

The senate killed a proposed amendment to the constitution permitting the state to bond for highways, purposes up to one per cent of the assessed valuation of its taxable property. This measure which was passed by the 1919 legislature, would give the state authority to incur a debt of $45,000,000 annually for road building.

There was no objection to placing the measure on the way to passage of legislators on the way to passage.

The assembly voted to engross the bill of Assemblyman Anderson repealing the statute which created divorce counsel to represent the counties in divorce proceedings. The bill, which the departmental budgets practically completed by the joint finance committee of the legislature, there looms the problem of university and normal school finances present, the greatest difficulties before the present session. Announcement was made by the committee that normal schools would present their requests for consideration next week and the university during the following week. University demands for the biennium total $15,000,000 and the requests of normal schools over $4,000,000, amounts never before approached by any of these institutions. Asked accounts for capital expenditures by the university total over $3,000,000 and by the normal schools of nearly $1,000,000.

The Sumnerville proposal for commission government in Wisconsin counties will be held in the assembly.

THE FAMILY ALBUM

His Big Spite—EZRA WAS A VERY GOOD DANCER—HAVING CARRIED OFF THE PRIZE AT THE ANNUAL PICKLE MAKERS' BALL IN 1900

Let the other fellow do all the pushing. (Tomorrow) Opportunities for the Girl Who Can Draw.

Some Blowing! During the last three years one of the juniors at the Lawrence High School, Lawrence, Kansas, has blown up approximately 325 basketballs, volleyball and footballs for the use of students in all the schools of the city.

The guy who blows 'em up says he prepares on an average of three balls a week. Of course he doesn't use his breath to do it, but has a small pump which does the work quickly and efficiently.

A FAMILIAR QUOTATION You Should Know (Can you guess who wrote it?) For he who fights and runs away, May live to fight another day; But he who is in battle slain, Can never rise and fight again.

Here once the embattled farmers stood, And fired the shot heard 'round the world. From the hymn by Ralph Waldo Emerson, sung at the completion of Concord Monument.

Horace Case (Presque Isle basketball game) Well, how can they expect the ball to stay in the basket when there's a hole in the bottom?

BILLY WHISKERS

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

The circus man felt in his bones that King Billy was a very independent

Billy Whiskers was now, fairly launched on his career. He was a show boy, a show boy, a show boy.

It was not long before the billboards were covered with his picture. The circus man was quick to see what a drawing card Billy was and of course made the very most of it.

On the whole, he liked his new life. The grand parade, the pleasant mornings, was always a delightful experience.

Looking his very best, he rode on the back of Jumbo, the great elephant. Billy and he were soon the best of friends. At the head of the procession, while his monkey band, who were always doing their best, rode on the backs of the other elephants.

How the crowds shouted and cheered and laughed as they moved by. It was all made up of Billy's career and it was all made up of Billy's career.

The afternoon and evening performances furnished two more opportunities each for the monkeys to show themselves to the monkeys who were always admiring audiences.

The manager of the circus was never better pleased than at his great luck at having secured such a drawing card. Billy was a very independent.

Both he and the monkeys were furnished all the time with the things they liked best to eat. Nothing was so carefully provided for them as their food and enjoyment.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Refuse to Raise Expense Money of Fight Body

Madison, Wis.—The Wisconsin boxing commission must struggle along on its appropriation of $3,210 a year. The assembly on Thursday refused to increase the amount to $7,200, following a debate in which several members advocated abolishing the commission. Assemblyman Prescott, Milwaukee, declared the increased appropriation was entirely unnecessary, and the commission to "permit the commission to take joy rides around the state."

THURSDAY EVENING.
Evanville, 6; Lake Geneva, 5.
Union, 23; Edgerton, 11.

[By Gazette Correspondent.]
Milton, Wis.—Milton Union won first place in the Milton college interscholastic tournament by defeating Edgerton Thursday night, 22 to 11. This puts Edgerton in second place. Third position was topped by Evanville by a defeat over Lake Geneva of 6 to 2.

In winning, Union took three straight games before the largest crowd in the history of the tournament, but not until after overcoming Edgerton's lead of 11-10 at half time. One of the features of the meet was the fact that the lowest total score in the history of the meet was made, the schools piling up only 274 points.

Prizes were distributed at a banquet given by the faculty Thursday night. Parades and bonfires featured the victory for the local combined institution. The all tournament teams were announced at the festival. They are:

First Team.

Kieby, Edgerton, forward.
Austin, Union, forward.
Savva, Union, center.
McMurray, Evanville, center.
McNitt, Union, guard.
Manogue, Union, guard.

Second Team.

Holler, Edgerton, forward.
Pesaka, Lake Geneva, forward.
Usher, Stoughton, center.
Schofield, Edgerton, guard.
Jensen, Edgerton, guard.

Union got four of the six men picked for the all tournament five. There was no little difference between Savva of Union and McMurray of Evanville, for center, that the committee of 14 gave both a place on the first team.

Final Games Come Friday in Factory Pins

When the clock strikes 10 Friday night, the Industrial Bowling league race of this city will be finished. Until that time it will be well nigh impossible to state who the winner will be.

The Rock River Machine Co. leads the race with 44 wins and 42 defeats, while the Rock River Woolen Mills are only two games behind, 42 and 38. The lead lies in favor of the Machine Co. but there is such a possibility as their losing three while the Woolens take three. That would put the Woolens in first. A win of two by the Woolens and only one by the Machine Co. will result in a tie. Either of these teams, however, will easily take first place, the next team in line, the Sampson Tractors, being five games behind the Woolens. These three teams will land in the top places.

There is also a race between the Parker Pen and the Hanson Furniture. The Parker Pen is one game ahead of the Hanson Furniture. The other teams will finish as follows: Cadillac, American Express and Daily Gazette.

Team—West Side.

WILSON'S LEAVING IS AMID SORROW

Democratic Days Come to Sombre End, President Ill.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington—With flags and bunting hanging limp in the drizzle of a dreary day, the administration of Woodrow Wilson comes to a sorrowful end. Death casts its melancholy shadow over the capital where Champ Clark, leader in the trying years since 1912, lies in state, mourned by all who knew him, irreverent as they may be, and a spectacle of party and of the tragedy of the nation. The administration of Woodrow Wilson comes to a sorrowful end. The administration of Woodrow Wilson comes to a sorrowful end. Death casts its melancholy shadow over the capital where Champ Clark, leader in the trying years since 1912, lies in state, mourned by all who knew him, irreverent as they may be, and a spectacle of party and of the tragedy of the nation.

Jealousy and bitterness over the defeat last autumn have mellowed and the atmosphere of the closing hours of the Wilson administration is one of depression not unmingled with hope that the era, dark as it is, will be the last. Wilson, for a part of his life, was a man of the people, a man who took up within a few hours the awful responsibilities of government at a critical moment in American history.

Some things are done. Perhaps more significant than any other thing about the ending of this administration is the absolute confidence of the outgoing officials that when President Harding takes office, the first thing he will do is to examine first hand the facts of our international relationship they will find themselves confronted on every side by a compelling situation which will lead the way to American entrance into some league of nations as the only way to stand on an equal footing with other countries in the trying problems of world reconstruction.

Most of the cabinet officers and officials are happy to be relieved at the end of the peculiarly harassing and difficult administration which was perhaps more burdensome than any other time in history because of the colossal nature of the European war and America's signal part in winning the victory.

Well-wishes for their successors came from the lips of the Wilson officials. Typical indeed, were the parting remarks of Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, as he bade the cooperation of the newspaper correspondents with the new secretary, George B. Christian.

"Be good to a hard job and you fellows can help him as much as I can. I have enjoyed every minute of the eight years. I have had fun and heart-breaks. Rich and poor alike came to the White House for aid, and as I look back over it, the most gratifying memory of all is that I have been able to help distressed individuals."

There was a touch of emotion in Secretary Tumulty's voice as the newspaper men crowded around him to shake hands and tell him he had "acted on the square" in his relations with them. With true optimism and with characteristic humor, Mr. Tumulty turned the conversation to a reminiscence of the political side of the administration.

Played Politics Out of Office. "It is true," he said with a smile, "that I have played politics—but I have played it everywhere except in the White House. My office assistants have been dealt with absolutely on their merits."

What Mr. Tumulty said about the personnel at the executive offices is of course true, for when he came to the White House he made practically no changes. He kept almost everybody who had been attached to the White House under the republican administration. He brought only his private secretary and a clerk. The rest of the White House staff is virtually the same as it was on the day President Taft said good-bye.

The cloud of impending change hangs nevertheless over the personnel of the entire government. Hints of reorganization are in the air. The peace time machinery was dislocated when the war came and it really has never been readjusted to fit the reconstruction period in which the United States government will continue to be dislocated for a generation.

Rotarians Plan Indoor Circus. Plans are being made to stage a circus at the marmoset foundry of the Samson Tractor Company, April 6, for the benefit of the Rotabile camp at Lake Koshkonong which was established last year by the Rotary club and which will be continued to be held in July. Committees have been appointed and are at work preparing the program for the circus.

C. Preston, Y. M. C. A. boys' director, has promised to take charge of the camp this year, as he did last.

VET WHO ESCAPED FROM PRISON, DEAD. To the ranks of the civil war dead has been added William Sylvester Sutton, Greenville, Ill., the grandfather of Sylvester Sutton, 21 North Pearl street. He died there February 22.

As a member of Co. K, 114th Illinois Volunteers, he served three years in the south, six months of which was spent as a prisoner of war in the Confederate prison at Andersonville. He escaped from there near the close of the war. Mr. Sutton was well known in Janesville, having visited here many times at the home of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Scott Sutton.

COLORED YOUTH TO GREEN BAY. Two more Rock county youths will go to Green Bay as the result of sentences imposed on Herbert Mitchell and Sam Smithson, Beloit negroes, by Municipal Judge John D. Clark, in Beloit Thursday afternoon. There have been 11 sentenced to the Green Bay reformatory from this county since the first of the year.

The two Beloit colored youths were caught trying to break into a pool hall. They admitted their intention of robbing the place, pleading poverty as their motive. Mitchell was given 18 months and Smithson a year in the reformatory.

Keep Youths Informed of Health, Plea

Importance of instructing the youth of the country in the truth of sex matters was stressed by Dr. Frank B. Sherwood, state specialist of the subject, at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club at noon Wednesday. Dr. Sherwood is appearing here for the state board of health, under the auspices of the local Y. M. C. A.

Declaring that of the 35 per cent of the physically unfit in the first draft in the world war the greatest percentage suffered from venereal diseases, he declared that these things should be explained to the boys and girls in the high schools and upper grades. As much as possible he is doing this.

Not enough boys are taken by their parents to the family physician, he said, and as a consequence ignorance becomes a danger. He dwelt upon the horrors of private diseases. He argued against the public dance and promiscuous kissing or parade or celebration which have no purpose and which are a waste of time and money. He declared that these things should be explained to the boys and girls in the high schools and upper grades. As much as possible he is doing this.

James Dorrans, principal of the vocational school, was leader.

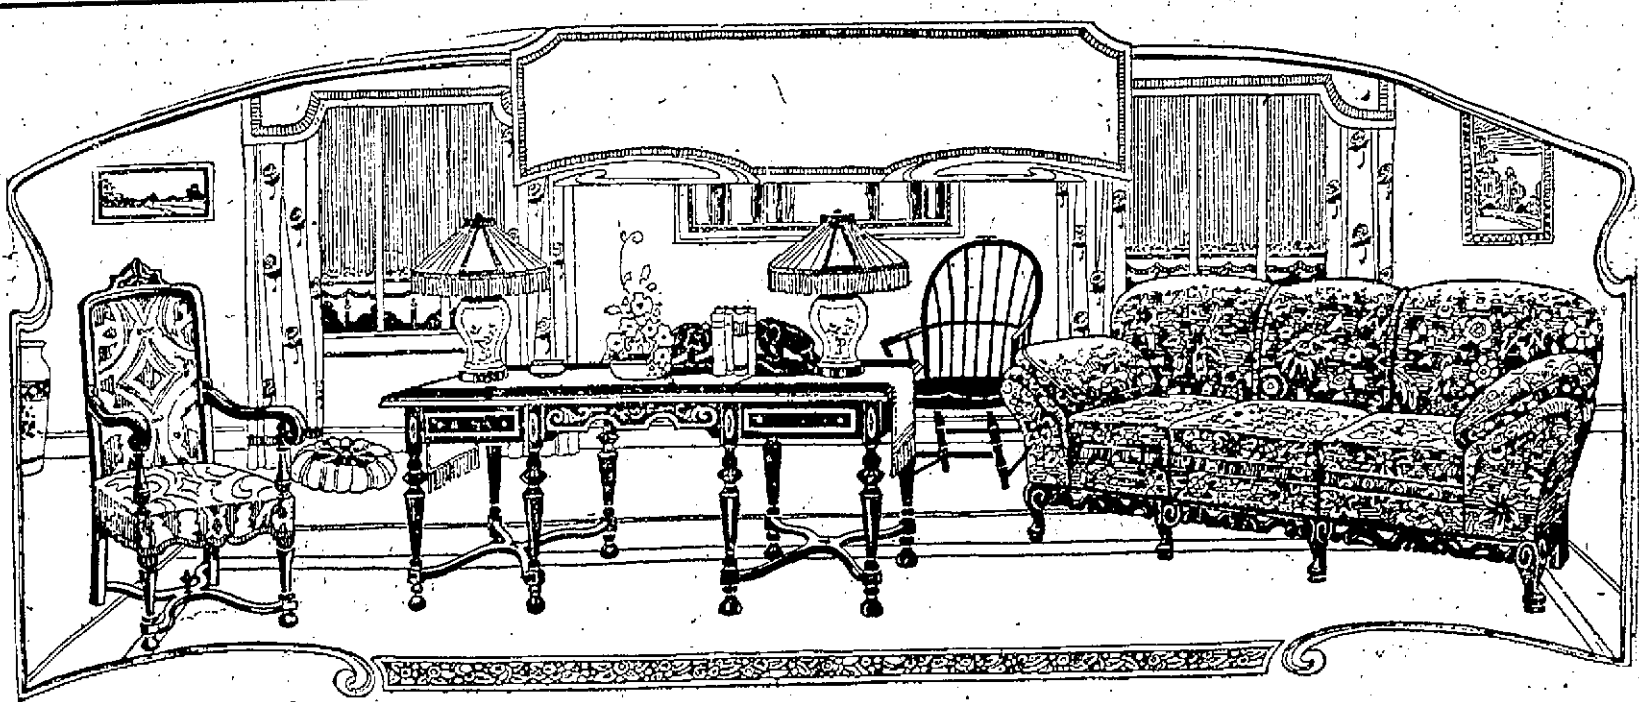

LOCAL REVIVALIST HOME FROM WEST. Mrs. John C. Nichols returned to her home here Tuesday night, following five weeks' service with the Dow-Belch "evangelistic party" at Fremont, Neb. She served as superintendent of the junior division and soprano soloist, making great success of her work and adding much to the success of the revival. Interviewed at her home, 1122 Milton avenue, she said she has as yet made no definite plans for the future.

Tailor Gained Ten Pounds—took Kozak. "Kozak made a new man of me. I was terribly run-down and nervous and always felt tired and lousy."

Thus spoke A. M. Mieshinski, a well known tailor, of 946 Rogers St., Milwaukee, Wednesday. "I had been unable to get a good night's sleep, always rolling and tossing and dreaming before. In the mornings I would get no feeling whatsoever. After eating I would suffer from heartburn and indigestion. I gained ten pounds after taking Kozak, was relieved of my nervousness and indigestion and gained strength and energy. Of course, I think it is wonderful."

Kozak, the Master Medicine, sold by Peoples Drug Co., Jackson Bldg., Edgerton, Atwell & Dallmann, Evansville, Pioneer Drug.

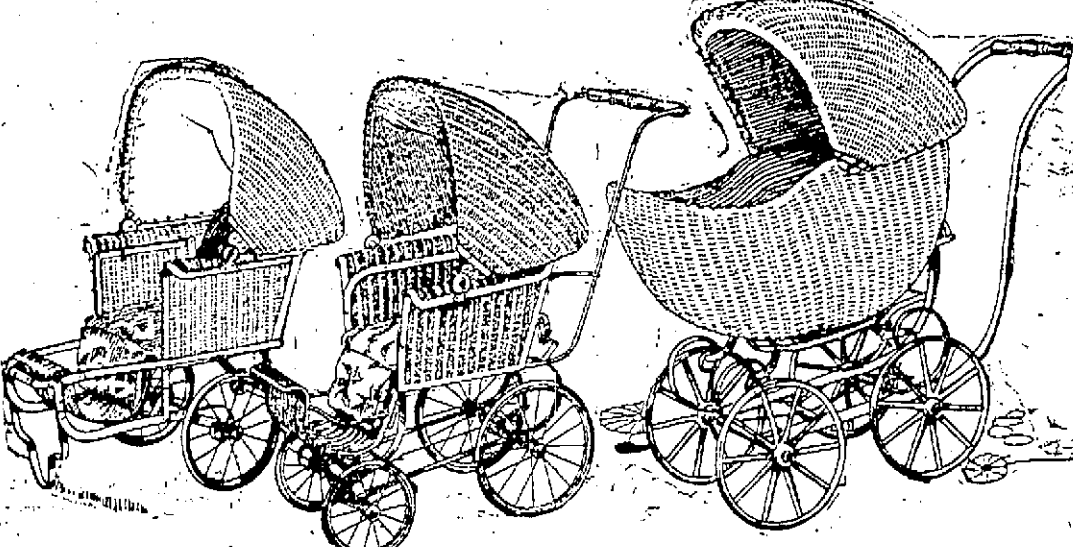

Kozak creates a keen appetite, aids digestion, vitalizes the blood, builds strength and brings back the color to the cheeks and the sparkle of health to the eyes.

B—Z, B—Z, B—Z—THE TELEPHONE.

"Hello—this is Dr. P. Your daughter was just struck by a car while crossing the street."

"Oh, Doctor! is she badly injured?"

"Yes, quite badly I fear. She was picked up and taken at once to Mercy Hospital, where we now are. Everything possible is and will be done for her, and she will be much better off here than at home."

"Please, Doctor, do everything you can. Don't let any expense stand in the way of doing everything possible for her. I will be up to see her just as soon as I can get there."

How many times a week this happens! Sometimes it's John, down at the plant, who has been injured. Sometimes it's mother, who has suddenly been stricken with a case of appendicitis, which requires immediate attention.

What happens?

The doors of Mercy Hospital are always open to receive the loved ones who are stricken with accidents or disease, requiring prompt surgical attention.

Mercy Hospital!

Do we realize what this great, humanitarian institution means to this city and community?

Probably not, except those who have been inmates or have a friend whose life perhaps has been saved or those whose suffering has been great and who have been restored to health through the kindly ministrations of the ones in charge of the institution.

Do you know, inside the great building on Washington street, is what might be called a great bank? Not a bank for the hoarding of money, but a bank of human kindness.

The visitor, upon entering this big building, finds, possibly to his surprise, a homelike atmosphere; an institution presided over and in charge of Sisters and nurses who speak in quiet modulated tones, and whose object in life is to give service, to relieve the suffering and to be the means of providing for the return from pain or ill health to recovery and usefulness in the community.

Do you realize that you may be the one today or tomorrow who will find occasion to make use of the hospitality and resources of Mercy Hospital?

No man or woman can be assured of freedom from sudden contact with disease or accident, and when the emergency does arrive, how pleasing it is to know that right in our midst an institution exists that will afford us the best and most kindly care, the most efficient nursing, and where the skill of the physician or surgeon can be exercised to the fullest and broadest extent.

Some people may say, "It is a Catholic institution and why should it be supported by Protestants?" Were it known as a Protestant institution, undoubtedly the same question would rise from a different source. Fortunately, it is not a sectarian institution as some seem to think. There is no infliction of religious ideas on the patients by the Sisters or nurses.

As one young man, a former soldier, who was an inmate of the hospital and a Protestant, recently said, "Anyone who says anything derogatory to the Sisters or Mercy Hospital in my hearing is going to have trouble on his hands. Never have I been treated better or with more consideration anywhere than right here in Mercy Hospital."

For the sake of yourself and your loved ones, can you afford not to help in the maintenance of this great humanitarian institution?

Is it not life insurance to you and to your family?

Both from a personal standpoint as well as a public one?

So it is up to you individually to help in the maintenance of Mercy Hospital, which is being conducted not for profit but for benefiting humanity.

Suffering knows neither Protestants nor Catholics, Jews nor Gentiles, but makes us a common kin.

For every good deed there is a reward, and by your contribution based upon your ability to give, you can earn that reward by helping Mercy Hospital. By so doing, you will be richly rewarded with the thanks and prayers of those who have been benefited through your benefactions.

Remember, the campaign to raise an emergency fund of $75,000 will start Tuesday, March 8th.
